

I get it

to protect

us both from flu

When you're pregnant, your flu shot counts for two. Not only does it reduce your risk of being hospitalized with flu by about 40%, it also protects your baby for several months after birth—when they're too young to be vaccinated.

Expecting? Get your flu shot today.

cdc.gov/flu/highrisk/pregnant.htm

#FIGHT FLU